Historical Perrysburg

IN 1816 the United States Government sent out Alexander Bourne to locate a townsite at the foot of the Maumee Rapids. This agent chose the present site of Perrysburg. Deputy United States surveyors then laid out the town. Mayor Spafford gave the town its name upon the suggestion of Josiah Meigs to name it after Commodore Perry. The manner of the selection of Perrysburg gave the town considerable prestige. Orleans of the North was plotted just below Fort Meigs. It was intended to be the leading port of Lake Erie. In 1818 Maumee City arose on the opposite side of the river. There soon rose a bitter triangular fight among Perrysburg, Orleans and Maumee as to a permanent location of the county seat of Wood County. Maumee City then being a part of this county. It appeared that Perrysburg would be selected. Maumee and Orleans opposed the selection with every possible influence but in 1822 Congress enacted a law which gave Perrysburg an advantage. In March, 1823 Perrysburg became the county seat, the seat having been removed from Maumee where it had been located since the formation of Wood County in 1820.

Between the years 1828 and 1840 there was transacted at Perrysburg as large a volume of commercial business as at any port on Lake Erie, excepting Buffalo and Cleveland. This business was transacted chiefly through the forwarding and commission houses of Hollister and Smith and Bingham and Co. Nearly all the goods consigned to Northern Ohio, Southern Michigan, and Northern Indiana were forwarded by teams from Perrysburg to the head of the rapids of Maumee River, where they were taken on keel boats and flatboats and distributed to various destinations. The boats brought back furs, skins and dried meats.

Spafford's Exchange established in 1822-23 was the most prominent hotel between Buffalo and St. Louis and the only frame public house between those cities. The story of the bell connected with the history of Spafford's Exchange, is known to all. The old register is filled with names of many prominent people, one of them being General Harrison, then candidate for the presidency. On June 11, 1840, no less than 473 guests were registered at the hotel.

In the summer of 1854 there spread over Perrysburg the terrible Cholera scourge which took 120 lives in one month. Dr. Erasmus Peck never faltered in his duty during this terrible calamity and his drug store was open day and night and the people helped themselves. Many of the citizens fled from the town but returned after the scourge had spent itself.

Perrysburg in the early seventies was the most important town of the county, and it occupied a more conspicuous position as a trading center than a person of today would be led to believe. In addition to its dry goods, grocery, drug and hardware stores, of which several flourished under the patronage of the inhabitants for many miles around, hotels, newspapers, doctors, courts and lawyers, the town had tanneries, shipyards, planing mills, and warehouses for grain and merchandise, and was the terminus for vessels plying from Cleveland, Buffalo and Detroit.

The attempt to remove the county seat from Perrysburg to Bowling Green caused a ten year struggle. The feeling was intense and there was bitter denunciation on both sides. It began in 1865 and was not definitely settled until in the fall of 1875. The vote proved the demand to change the seat to Bowling Green.

By 1888 Perrysburg could boast of eight ministers in as many churches, and several lawyers practicing law, among whom were Francis Hollenbeck, Thomas Powell, Willard Way, and Henry Dodge.

The town boasted of a population of over 400 persons but when the government stopped dredging the Maumee between Toledo and Perrysburg, the industries moved to Toledo to take advantage of the water shipping.

Above Perrysburg is Fort Meigs, a memorable fort in the War of 1812. It was under the leadership of General Harrison that the fort was built with little molestation from the Indians. In April of 1813 the British, under the command of Proctor, attacked the fort of 1,100 men which was inadequate to withstand the onslaught of the enemy and the fort possibly would have been lost but for the arrival of General Clay and his Kentuckians. Dudley's Massacre followed because Dudley elated with success, thought he had a chance to win and disobeying the orders of General Harrison, followed the enemy without thought of an ambush. One hundred and seventy out of his 866 men escaped to Fort Meigs.

The second seige occurred during the summer of the same year with an even greater force but the fort in the meantime had been strengthened. Although trickery was used by the Indians, General Clay was not deceived and kept his troops within the fort. After futile attempts, the enemy departed for an attack on Fort Stevenson.

A mile above the Fort is Buttonwood Island, and on it the Indians were assembled by the government in 1833 to be vaccinated and then deported west.

Another mile up and on the opposite side of the river is Turkey Foot Rock. It is said that Turkey Foot sat dying on that rock, administering war paint before going to the "happy hunting grounds" when he was suddenly shot.

In memory of the dead of Ohio, Kentucky, Virginia and Pennsylvania who fell at Fort Meigs, a monument was erected at Fort Meigs. It was dedicated September 1, 1908 with inspiring ceremonies. It is a simple, magnificent, stone column, symbolic of the patriotic spirit, love and gratitude for those who died in their duty.

The history of Perrysburg High School dates back to 1849 and was founded by A. D. Wright, who was also its first superintendent and principal. Their first structure was brick, 60x90. The schedule then was very different from what it is today. It included algebra, geometry, surveying, orthography, rhetoric, elocution, physiology, natural, mental, and moral philosophy, botany, zoology, mineralogy, history, bookkeeping, science of government, composition and declamation, Latin and Greek, drawing, painting, and piano. In 1868 the building was enlarged but destroyed by fire in 1894. The present building, built in 1895, was enlarged in 1917. In 1849, the first year of our school, the enrollment was 50, today it is 250 in the High School and nearly 600 in the grade school.

When Willard V. Way, a prominent Perrysburg lawyer, died in 1875, he left a sum of money, from which the interest amounting to $1200 every four years, is to help some worthy student through college. He also left $15,000 to the town for the purpose of providing a library. In 1881 the council acted and appointed Miss Hulburd as librarian and installed the first collection of books in her home. In 1892 the present building was dedicated with 4000 books.

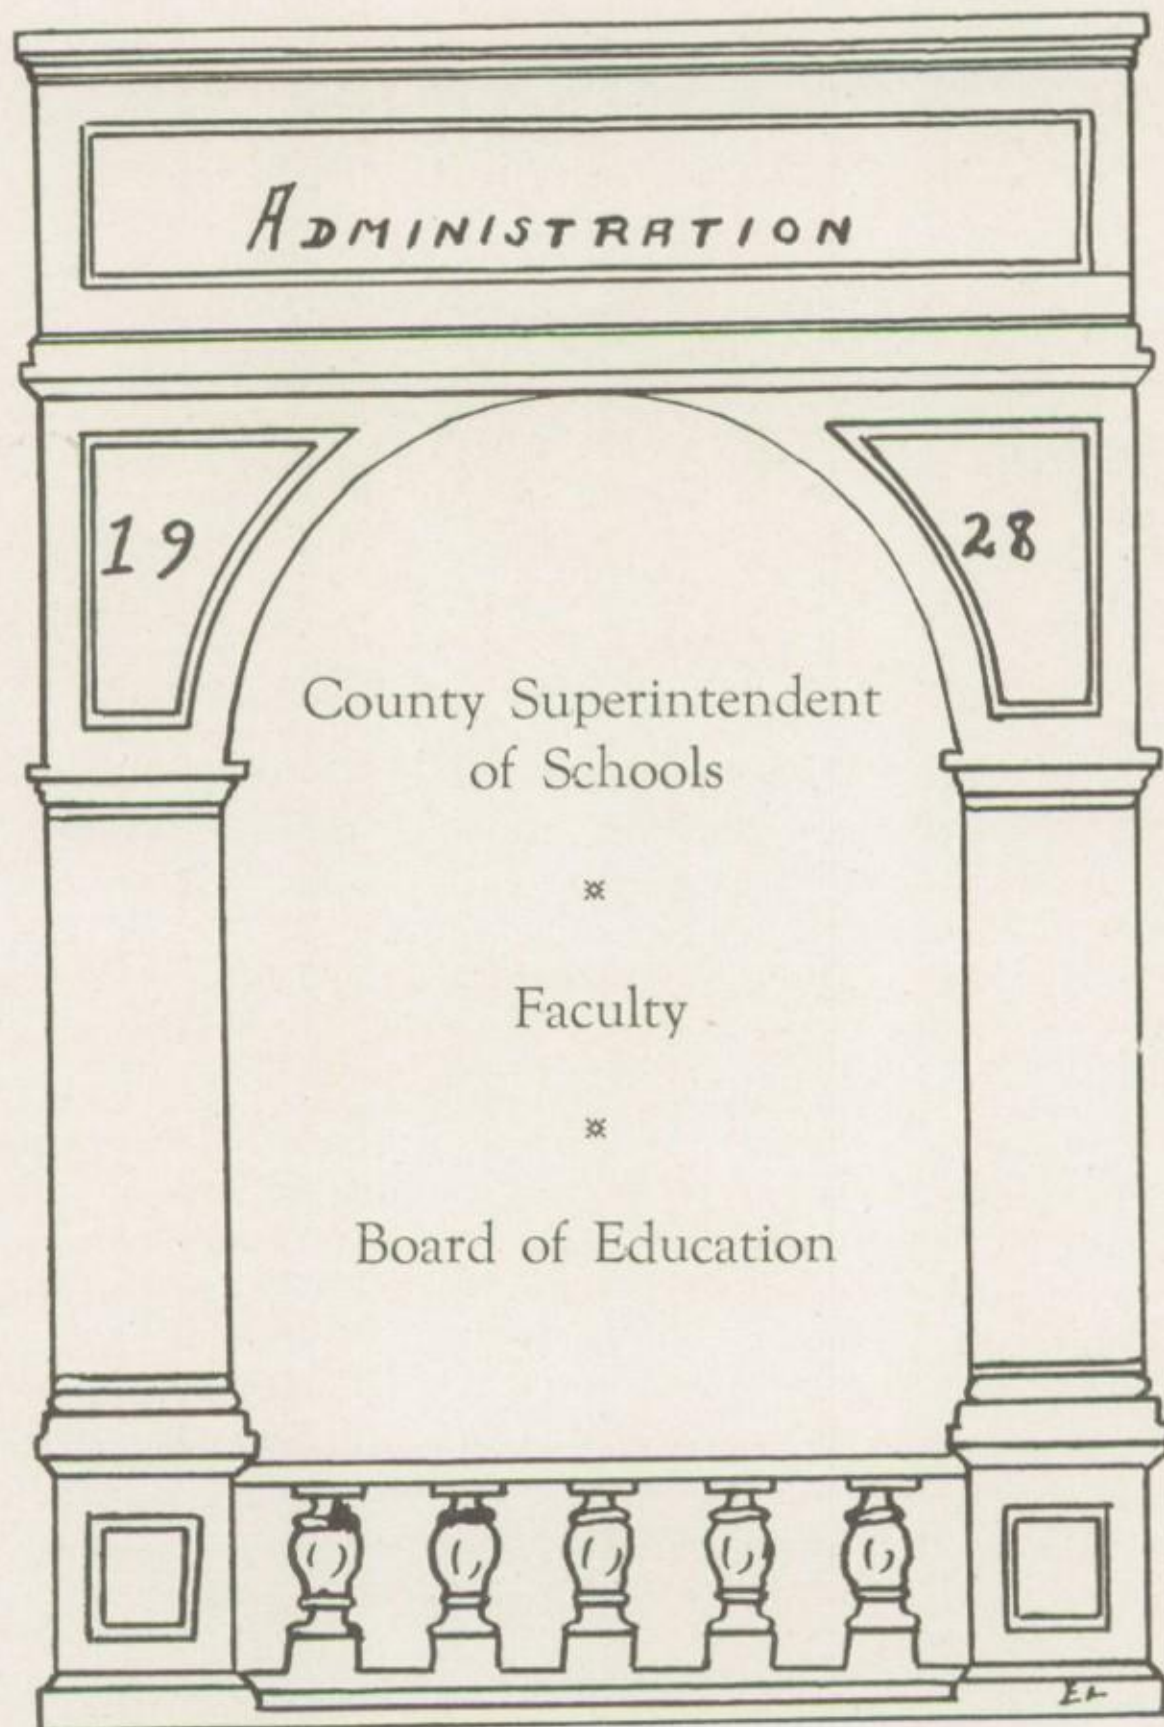

Perrysburg High School is one of the few schools in this section that is a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and her standards are maintained each year by a competent faculty. In 1925 our High School became a member of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools.

A letter was received recently by Mr. Riggle from the State Department of Education stating that Perrysburg High School is unqualifiedly recommended that it has a clear record.

The High School has two literary societies, the Athenian and the Phi Sigma, and annually a contest between the two societies is held, wherein much friendly rivalry is displayed.

The curriculum and equipment of the High School, including physical training and gym equipment, is improving this year.

Perrysburg High School stands high in its ranking of athletics and contests of various types. The High School is known for its true sportsmanship, fair play, and loyal support. The student body and the faculty put forth their efforts to make this school one of the best and may they always continue to do so.

Perrysburg High School recognizes its superintendent as a man who labors incessantly for the interest of others. He lives every day to direct the affairs of the school. Most of us do not realize the magnitude of his task, but we can not be unaware of the spirit he brings to it, nor of his desire to assist every student in becoming a helpful, self-reliant person.

His discerning judgment, and strength of character and ideals, are essential factors in the development of Perrysburg, High School.

Class History

CHAPTER 1

In the early part of September, 1924, about seventy-five little "green looking" individuals were seen wandering aimlessly about the halls and rooms of P. H. S. Probably you wouldn't believe it, but they were the future Seniors of Nineteen Hundred Twenty-eight.

During our first year of discomfort and ridicule, Mr. Scheld was given the task of being our sponsor. At the first class meeting the following students were chosen to man the Freshman ship:

President	Richard Kruse
Vice-President	Lucille Kazmaier
Secretary	Ruth Dwyer
Treasurer	Daniel Beck
Associate Editor	Donald Craine
Reporter	Eloise Luebben

The class chose the Lily of the Valley as the class flower, Orange and Silver as the class colors, and "Work Wins Everything" was our "well meant" motto.

One night when old man winter was at his height, we had a sleigh ride and everyone had a wonderful time.

Despite all the hardships of the first year of High School, the greater part of the class weathered the storm and graduated from their humiliating positions.

CHAPTER II.

The next fall we returned to P. H. S. and now it was our "chance" with the "freshies". Of course, we controlled the main assembly and made the most of our advanced position.

Our large numbers as Freshmen were reduced to fifty-four, but we still had an extra large class. A few days after the regular school procedure was begun we found the need for class government and accordingly elected the following officers:

President	Howard Kazmaier
Vice-President	Lucille Kazmaier
Secretary	Eloise Luebben
Treasurer	Daniel Beck
Reporter	Richard Kruse

More of our classmates participated in all school activities this year and with Miss Clay as our sponsor we had a very successful year.

The class voted to keep the same class colors, motto and flower that we had during our first year.

CHAPTER III.

We entered the third year of our High School career with the large enrollment of forty-six. Mr. Huffman was our very able sponsor. The officers elected for this year were:

President	Eloise Luebben
Vice-President	Glenn Charles
Secretary	Lucille Kazmaier
Treasurer	Daniel Beck
Reporter	Richard Warner

We as Juniors took a very active part in all school athletics and also in all literary activities. A large majority of the football players were from our class. In the course of the year Eloise Luebben and Lucille Kazmaier were elected to the National Honor Society. Our class also sponsored a Banquet given in honor of the departing Seniors.

CHAPTER IV.

The forty students who returned to P. H. S. found themselves on the last stretch of the race and to lead us to a successful finish we chose the following officers:

1928 . . . BLACK AND GOLD . . . 1928

President	Richard Kruse
Vice-President	Richard Warner
Secretary	Lucille Kazmaier
Treasurer	Eloise Luebben
Reporter	Glenn Charles

Superintendent Riggle was our capable sponsor.

"We, as usual, published the school paper, "The Somethin" with more or less regularity every six weeks.

We chose Green and White as our class colors, the Sweet Pea for class flower and our class Motto was "Today is But a Preparation For Tomorrow."

At the end of the first semester the names of Jessie Nietz, Elizabeth Thornton, Marjorie Milligan, and Richard Kruse were added to the roll of the National Honor Society. The Seniors were very proud of their classmates who had received this great honor and feel sure they justly deserve membership in the Society.

During the year a great many Seniors took part in all activities. The football and basketball teams were practically senior teams. We certainly were proud of these fellows who fought so hard to bring honor to P. H. S.

Visions of graduation began to loom in sight. The Juniors gave a Banquet in honor of the Seniors on the evening of May 10. The Baccalaureate Service was held May 13. A few days intervened and then—Graduation. The following Commencement program was carried out:

Salutatory	Lucille Kazmaier
Class History	Marjorie Milligan
Class Prophecy	Elizabeth Thornton
Cornet Solo	Karl Williams
Valedictory	Jessie Neitz
Class Address	Dr. Mahon, Toledo, Ohio

With the presentation of diplomas the race was run and had been won.

Class Prophecy

On an early spring afternoon in the year 1940 as I was attempting to concentrate on my work, a knock sounded on the door of my Interior Art Studio. As I answered it, the most familiar voice greeted me.

"How do you do," it said, "I'm Mrs. Van Kell's secretary. She has asked me to come here to inquire about some hall decorations. May I come in?"

"Oh! Why, of course! I'm sorry I was so stupid but, you see, your identity has just come to me. You are Miss Feese—Josephine Feese, aren't you?"

This well-dressed lady nodded and we immediately broke into a lively talk of olden days.

"Tell me. What have you heard of any of our classmates? Jane Williams, for instance. What is she doing?"

"Oh, yes. I just received a letter from her this morning. She owns a beauty parlor in Chicago and is so successful that she doesn't have to stay there all the time but runs a Better Typists' Bureau. A queer line of work but interesting. Jane tells me that Mary Wiser is doing well as a governess in a wealthy Long Island home and that Helen Caldwell now owns and edits the Perysburg Journal. That's all I've heard from the P. H.S. bunch, and I really must be going. If you see any of them, however, give them my best regards."

Like a flash she was gone and having nothing better to do, I tuned in on the radio and again was struck dumb by these words floating through the atmosphere—"Daniel Beck announcing. Please stand by for station announcements. Good afternoon."

Who would have thought that Dan would turn out to be a radio announcer? Well, such is life. I turned the dial and heard Dick Warner strumming his banjo-uke and singing that old, spooky Hearse Song that we used to enjoy hearing so much! I continued to turn the dial and listened for more familiar voices. No use, however, so I snapped the radio off and put on my wraps, walked out into the sunlight towards a tea-room. I had never been in the Irene Tea-Room, as it had just been newly established, so I turned into the cleverly designed shoppe and was greeted by a small, pleasant woman whom I recognized as Irene Walp. "How do you like my place?" she asked, for evidently she had recognized me, too.

"Very much," I replied. "Will you show me to a nice quiet corner where I can talk to you about everything and everybody?" She nodded and led me to a convenient table where I could look out upon the rest of the people. Irene sat down across the table from me and told me that she had just seen Glenn Charles, who had become the successful editor of the popular Sports Weekly, and his co-workers Edward LaFarree and James Plummer; "Shrimp" being the artist or caricaturist and "Jim" the assistant editor.

"I imagine you see quite a few old friends here, don't you, Irene?" I asked.

"Oh, I do," she replied. "Why, the first day that my tea-room was opened, who should come in but Lucille Kazmaier, who, by the way, has married a professor of Mathematics and assists him quite a bit; then Dolly Shaw, who has the leading role in Get Your Man, has been in several times with Dayne Cummings, now the owner of a chain of grocery stores throughout the country.

"But look! There comes a person who is very wonderful in art circles. Don't you recognize her? Surely, you do. That's Gladys Perrin."

I turned and stared at a most artistically dressed person and then said: "There is nothing surprising in her success for I remember Gladys' original drawings and designs when we were in school together. Who is the lady with her? I know her, of course; it's Mabel Redman. "Mabe", as we used to call her. What is she doing?"

"Haven't you heard?" asked Irene. She is President of the Inter-State Economics and Domestic Science Club. She and Gladys keep 'bachelor apartments' and they are inseparable friends."

"Well, this is news and I am so glad I stopped in here and talked with you. It's almost like being back in Perrysburg again. I really must be going. Good-bye." With these words I walked out of the building and into another surprise.

I should say that I bumped into, rather than walked into, a surprise; for as I rounded the corner, a pillar of gray blurred my vision. "I beg your pardon, I—er—" Whose voice was this? I'd know it anywhere. I craned my neck and looked into Julius Witzler's face! What a Julius! He was still tall, of course, if not taller, but handsomely dressed. Spats, cane and all the accouterments that you just know the well-dressed man wears. Remembering Jule's ambition to become a broker, I said, laughingly, "Well, Mr. Witzler, how do you like brokerage?"

He stared at me and then ejaculated, "Midge! Where did you come from? How's everybody?"

After this volley of questions flew at me, I replied, "I'm living in this city at present and if by everybody you mean the good old Senior Class of '28 I know that I have heard of only a few of them. You surely can give an account of yourself and some of the fellows with whom you associated, can't you?"

"Well," said Jule, "I have been dealing in stocks and bonds and Bert Anderson is my partner in the brokerage. He and I have also set up quite a business of car washing. Oh! don't laugh! You see, we have our garages in all parts of the city and there are other men to wash the cars. You know of course, that Dick Kruse is a wealthy lawyer in Chicago and Milly Smith is his private secretary. Then, the other day, I ran across Ben Kuhlman, who is a chemist and physicist and has his own laboratories; he told me that Sam Lyons is progressing nicely as the head of a large automobile agency, which by the way is near Louise Weeber's Dress and Hat Shoppe. I haven't heard about anyone else who interests us. Say, Midge, I'm sorry, but I have an appointment and really must be dashing on. My car is right here. Will you allow me to present it for your own use the rest of the afternoon?"

"Ask me another! Thank you, kind sir, I accept with pleasure." I got in the beautifully appointed limousine and then turned to Julius who was standing by the open window. "Good-bye. So glad to have seen you and thanks again for the use of your car."

Julius bade me farewell and waved the chauffeur to be off.

I settled back in ease and as the driver turned to receive my instructions, I suddenly gasped "Joe Kolvey! Of all people." The chauffeur touched his cap and said with a smile, "At your service, Madam."

"You may drive me to Roxy's Theatre for the matinee," I said, "but on the way you may tell me what has become of Harold Eckel; you know you used to chum with him quite a bit."

"Well," replied Joseph, "Harold is a very successful farmer near Perrysburg and guess whom he has for a wife. Helen Hufford! Before she married him, though she had a large florist's shop." He stopped talking and skillfully guided the car to the curb in front of the theatre. I dismissed him with a friendly wave of the hand and walked into the splendid palace of drama. I bought my ticket and handed it to the door-man. I don't know why but this large man in a decorated uniform seemed familiar to me. Was I to see more of my High School associates before the day ended? Surely I wasn't—but yes. This man smiled and I was just ready to kill him with an icy stare when my name fell from his lips and then I knew him! It was Walter Kolb, another of my class-mates. We exchanged a few words of greeting and probably would have talked longer had I not been jostled on by the huge crowd that was assembling in the theatre.

I was ushered to my seat just as the orchestra was taking its place in the pit. The music began and the perfect bars of Somewhere a Voice is Calling played by a cornetist, floated familiarly to me. I looked at the orchestra leader and knew at once that it was Karl Williams and a passing glance at the pianist told me that Ethel Burkhart had risen in the musical world.

By this time I had become accustomed to seeing old friends, so I sat back comfortably in my chair and glanced passively over the audience. My glance was arrested, however, by a richly dressed lady sitting in the box, across from me. I knew her instantly. It was Frances Goble. She had evidently seen me for she was beckoning wildly for me to come to her box. I rushed eagerly around to her place and cried, "My dear old Fran! How lovely you look! Where have you been all these years?" She greeted me joyfully and told me that she had married a wealthy New York manufacturer and was having a perfectly wonderful time traveling and attending parties, etc. We talked until the curtain went up on the first act and during this time we exchanged choice bits of news and gossip.

"Do you know," said Fran, "I just received a letter from Eloise Luebben and she tells me that she is getting a great deal of enjoyment out of teaching languages in a High School in Toledo. Jessie Nietz is teaching, also. Some place in New York, I think, one of the Americanization classes. Paul Webster, I guess, is at the head of the Maumee Valley Transportation Company and has enlarged and improved it considerably."

On and on our conversation ran until it was time for the show to begin. I made my way, then, back to my place and waited eagerly for action. Action! That is what I got! I almost fell out of my chair and box; for on the stage taking the part of the hero, stood Donald Craine! Times have changed, because I remember how bashful Don used to be. How many more surprises were in store for me?

I left the theatre and went to a small dining place. All through the meal I meditated over the day's happenings and decided that to top off a fine day I must go to the Athletic Club and see the big basketball game between two of our most renowned colleges. I went into the club and sat down on one of those beastly, backless benches that they insist on having, for spectators. When the players ran out on the floor, I saw, coming from the midst of waving caps and arms, the tall, swinging figure of Clarence Burkhart. He evidently was the referee. Immediately after the half was over, I made my way to him to ask him what he was doing for a livelihood, and the usual line of conversation, which always occurs when you haven't seen a friend for ages, ensued. He told me that he was an Athletic Director of Inter-National Athletic Meets. Finally, I said, "Burky, it's your turn now to tell me what you have heard of the old P. H. S. bunch. I've met several of them today and it's been great to talk to them. Just like being in Perrysburg again."

He grinned, as only Burky can, and said, "Well, Howard Thaiss is the head of a Soldiers Home in Wisconsin, and Elizabeth Thornton became so interested in snap shots and pictures when she was working on the 1928 Annual that she has chosen that kind of work and has made a big success of it. Gladys Halbert, a few years after she graduated from High School, became a Physical Culture Coach and was writing several "health articles" when she met an undertaker and married him. Then, let's see. What was it I heard about Ruth Simmons? Oh, yes, she is teaching elocution in a school of Expression which she established four or five years ago. You probably can guess what Dorothy Lindsay is doing. Remember how she used to win all the prizes for being able to sell things? Well, she also has established a school—but this one is for training people for salesmanship.

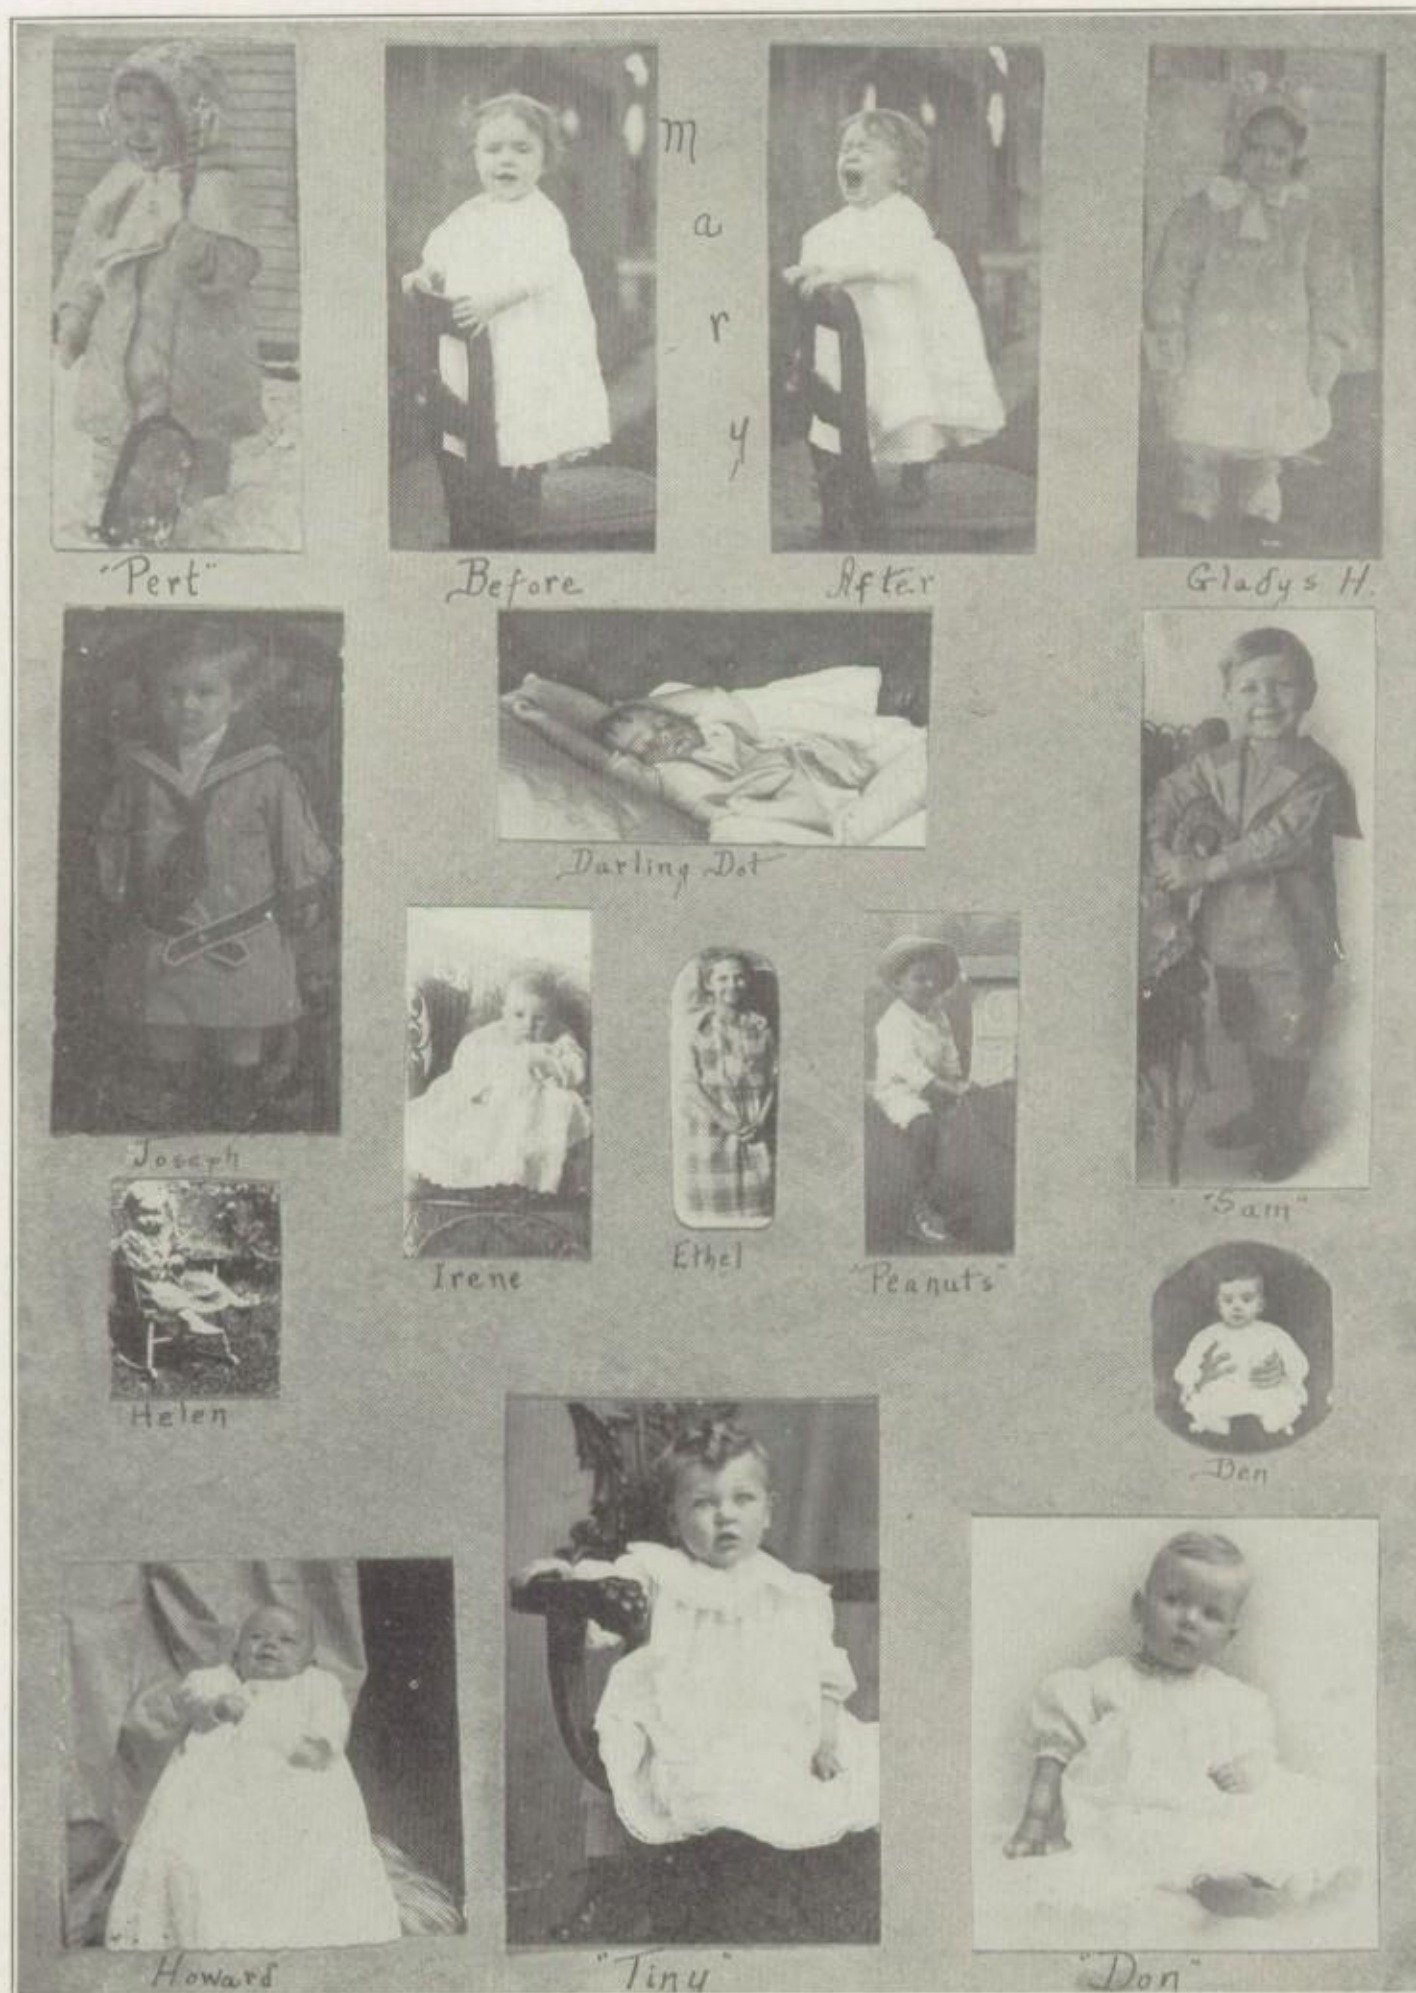

I laughed and then replied, "It's been fine to hear all about everyone and to see you. I hope I'll be able to see the rest of them some time. Good-bye, Burky, and good luck!"

I left the building and walked slowly to my studio in a meditative mood. It's funny how small the world really is and how nicely it has treated most of us. Just think! I awoke this morning with the intention of going through the same old routine and seeing the same people. How different it turned out to be.

Reaching home, I went directly to my room and curled up on the bed. "Oh! Hum! Tomorrow's another day."

In the apartment below the radio was on and the music was that time-worn piece, The End of a Perfect Day.

Freshman Class History

Last September over a hundred Freshmen thronged into the main assembly at P. H. S. They proved too great a number for the main assembly so two over-flows were created. They elected their officers early in September and M. Scheld became their sponsor. The following November Scarlet and Gray were chosen as class colors. The officers chosen were:

President	Margaret Goeke
Vice-President	Junior Riggle
Secretary	Catherine Thornton
Treasurer	Donald Spilker
Reporter	Clara Louise Schuetz

The first Wednesday of each month found them holding a meeting of the class. P. H. S. has never had such a large group of Freshmen before. They have been well represented on each Honor Roll, in some cases better than the upper classes. During the year the class has dwindled down to ninety-three. We are expecting great things from the "wide awake" Freshman class and wish them every kind of success.

Orchestra

When school resumed last fall, the orchestra was reorganized. Each member was determined to do his or her part to maintain the fine reputation it achieved last year by taking first honors in the county contest. Under the supervision of Mrs. Welsh, untiring in her interest and zeal, the orchestra has done fine work throughout the year and will represent Perrysburg again this year. The Orchestra number to be used at the contest this year is the "Submarine March."

The following are those enrolled in the Orchestra:

First Violin	Second Violin
Margaret Swartz	Ruby Farris
Ruth Cocanour	Junior Riggle
Ellen Uthoff	Marion Hansen
Leroy Nollenberger	Walter Snyder
Drums—Roland Stalder
Piano—Martha Fahrer
Trombone—Melvin Lyons
Clarinet—Arthur Williams.
Cornet—Karl Williams
Saxophone—Avonelle Pyers
	Dayne Cummings

Girls' Glee Club

The Girl's Glee Club this year organized under the supervision of a new director. The Club feels that it has had a very successful year under Mrs. Welsh's capable supervision.

The officers elected are:

President		Marjorie Milligan
Secretary		Dorothy Shaw
Treasurer		Gretchen Hoffman
Librarian		Frances Goble

This year the sixteen girls who sang in the Girl's Chorus sang, "To a Wild Rose." The chorus consisted of Gretchen Hoffman, Charlotte Menke, Grace Spreng, La Verne Schneider, Eloise Luebben, Helen De Verna, Ruth Neiderhouse, Dorothy Jane Van Brimmer, Lida Mae Sutter, Jessie Acklin, Marjorie Milligan, June Shepherd, Frances Goble, Bernice Hower, Mercedes Bihn and Helen Troyer.

Some of the girls also participated in the Mixed Chorus which sang, "Sweet Miss Mary."

Boys' Glee Club

This year, under the supervision of Mrs. Welsh the Boy's Glee Club was used more or less as a preliminary to the quartets and mixed chorus. All boys who were willing to work were admitted. During the first month all boys practiced together and were given the same chance. At the end of the first six week period the ones that showed any superior qualities were given a chance to try for the quartets and mixed chorus. The boys took a great interest and did all they could to promote their branches of the Glee Club.

The quartets made several public appearances this year and seemed to be received with much enthusiasm. This year the quartets will lose four of its members. They are Richard Warner, Dayne Cummings, Richard Kruse and Karl Williams. We hope that next year the quartets will continue the work that was begun this year.

The mixed chorus has been working hard this year preparing for the county Contest. We are banking on this organization to show what it can do. Those who have heard it have complimented it and we are sure it will bring first honors at the contest.

The members of this year's Glee Club are:

Roy Nollenberger
Harry Fenneberg
Foreman Albright
Arthur Williams
Richard Kruse
Henry Richards

Richard Warner
Bert Robison
Karl Williams
Dayne Cummings
Earl Hough
Cyril Munger

Roland Stalder
Clamor Goeke
Philip Sutter
Donald Spilker
Dale Spilker

Athenian Literary Society

The literary societies were entirely reorganized this year. Membership was made voluntary and each member was pledged to take part in the programs when asked. Freshmen were excluded from membership but not from participation in the programs. This year the literary societies presented more programs than usual, thus allowing a great number of students to gain platform experience. The reorganization of the literary societies was a big success. The programs were well organized and very well given. A program was given every month on the average.

The Athenians, mindful of their victory last year and eager to repeat this year, chose the following officers:

President	Glenn Charles
Vice-President	Richard Warner
Secretary	Richard Kruse
Treasurer	Daniel Beck
Fifth Member	Marjorie Milligan

With Mr. Huffman as sponsor, these officers organized several splendid programs. Many appearing for the first time on the platform displayed unsuspected talent.

The purpose of the literary societies is to discover and develop individual literary talent.

The Athenians have accomplished much toward their purpose. Some of the features of the year's programs were: Songs by the Camp Half-Wits: extemporaneous speech by Charlotte Menke and and a lively discussion on our celebration of Thanksgiving. The Parrot, our paper was also unusually good.

The year rolled around swiftly and soon it was time to select our contestants for the Annual Phi Sigma-Athenian Contest. The officers selected our representatives who were enthusiastically voted as the choice of the entire society. The following contestants were selected:

Oration	Lucille Kazmaier
Reading	Helen De Verna
Essay	Marjorie Milligan
Girls Duet	La Verne Snyder, Marjorie Milligan
Solo	Richard Warner
Debate	Richard Kruse, Charlotte Menke, Jessie Nietz

With these contestants we Athenians feel victory is inevitable. We are out to win and start an Athenian "winning streak." But WIN or LOSE, Athenians forever.

Phi Sigma Literary Society

The Phi Sigma Literary Society under their very capable sponsors Miss Wis-er and Miss Sandles gave several excellent programs this year. We established as our objective the decision to have all of our members appear on a program.

Many of our most enjoyable programs were the result of the work of new talent. We succeeded very commendably in having everyone appear on a pro-gram. Only Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors were admitted to membership.

At the first meeting the following officers were elected to successfully guide us through the year of '28:

President		Eloise Luebben
Vice-President		Mary Wiser
Secretary		June Shepherd
Treasurer		George Haas
Fifth Member		Louise Weeber

Five programs were given during the year and every member was given some part in at least one program. This would have been impossible in the past when the literary society was composed of so many members.

The first program, according to our plan, was a truly literary one on Walt Whitman and his works. A one-act play, "Beau Nash", was given at a later program. A unique radio program was broadcasted from the P. S. L. S. studio one Friday afternoon.

The Freshmen chose the society to which they wish to belong in time to help "root" for the society in the contest.

The members chosen to represent the Phi Sigma society in the annual Phi Sigma-Athenian Literary Contest, April 20, are as follows:

Essay	Elsie Metzger
Reading	June Shepherd
Oration	Bernice Hower
Debate	Mary Wiser, Eloise Luebben Harry Fenneberg, Alternate
Vocal Solo	Mercedes Bihn
Vocal Duet	Grace Spreng, Mercedes Bihn

We wish to thank our sponsors, Miss Sandles and Miss Wiser, for their fine aid and co-operation this past year.

Due to the over-crowding of events of the County Contests, we find it advisable to eliminate the annual Phi Sigma-Athenian contest this year.

It is hoped that next year the contest will be held in the earlier part of the year before the County Contests crowd in, and when enthusiasm is at its height.

Music and Literary Contest

Toward the close of each school year a series of contests are held among the different schools of the county, to give high school students an opportunity to display and develop their literary and musical talents. These contests greatly relieve the monotony of the regular routine and help to develop in every student the spirit of true sportsmanship and a sense of loyalty to their school.

By means of an elimination contest very able students were chosen to represent our school in the District Contest held on April 4. Perrysburg proved victorious in the battle, winning eight of the ten events.

Oration	Howard Thaiss	Stringed Instrument ..	Ruth Cocanour
Girls Solo	Mercedes Bihn	Wind Instrument	Karl Williams
Boys Solo	Richard Warner	Piano	Martha Fahrer
Orchestra		Girls Chorus

These winners entered the Semi-County Contest which took place at North Baltimore on April 5. The following students came through with honors for our school:

Piano	Martha Fahrer	Stringed Instrument ..	Ruth Cocanour
Wind Instrument	Karl Williams	Oration	Howard Thaiss
Orchestra		Girls Chorus

They represented the western half of the county in the All-County Contest on April 10. Wood County may well be proud of the forward progress noted in each of these literary and music contests, for great strides have been made since the inauguration of the contest several years ago. According to the decision of the judges, Mrs. Elizabeth Irving of Toledo, and Mr. Otto Holtcamp of Bluffton College, our school took first honors by winning four firsts:

Piano	Martha Fahrer	Wind Instrument	Karl Williams
Stringed Instrument ..	Ruth Cocanour	Orchestra

All students participating in the contests are to be congratulated for their ardent efforts to bring honor and glory to P. H. S.

Hi-Y Club

The Hi-Y Club is an international organization composed of members of the Sophomore, Junior and Senior Classes of the High School. The members are chosen according to ability, personality and habits.

The purpose of this club is to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character. The slogan of the club is—"Clean speech, clean athletics, clean living, and clean scholarship."

The Hi-Y sponsored a "Vocational Guidance Banquet," which was held at the Evangelical Church on March 1. The object of this banquet was to give each boy the opportunity of discussing the advantages and disadvantages of the vocation he was interested in as his life work, with a man following that occupation.

The officers of the club are:

President	Richard Warner
Vice President	Paul Webster
Secretary	Richard Kruse
Treasurer	Howard Thaiss
Sargeant-at-Arms	Natcher France
Chaplain	Norman Sweet
Leader	Mr. Treece

The members of the society are—Left to right—Mr. Treece, Principal and Leader, Ben Kuhlman, Harold Neiderhouse, John Woody, Arthur Williams, Richard Kruse, Donald Craine, Clayton Bostdorf, Paul Webster, Clarence Burkhardt, Henry Richards, Natcher France, Karl Williams.

Lower Row—John Kruse, Norman Sweet, Howard Thaiss, Philip Sutter, Richard Warner, James Plummer, Roland Stalder, Clamor Goeke, Dayne Cummings.

National Honor Society

Perrysburg High School's chapter of the National Honor Society was organized in 1925. The purpose of this organization is to encourage good scholarship. The society is national in its scope and schools which have chapters must conform to the high standards set by it. It is distinctly an honor society. It corresponds to Phi Beta Kappa in college. The faculty elects 15% out of each senior class to membership in this society. Besides scholarship, other qualifications considered are leadership, character, and participation in school activities.

This year six students were elected to membership:

Lucille Kazmaier	Jessie Nietz	Elizabeth Thornton
Eloise Luebben	Marjorie Milligan	Richard Kruse

Members in former years were:

Class of '25:-

Gertrude Braun	Imogene Kazmaier
Angeline Lownsbury	Dorothy Sutter

Class of '26:-

Howard Sattler	Bernice Snyder
Frederick Leydorf	Frederick Driftmeyer

Class of '27:-

Dorothy Mandell	Lela Nietz
Marie Wellstead	Elizabeth Lucas

Public Speaking Class

The class in Public Speaking of '28 under the direction of Miss Sandles is larger than ever before, and one of the best. The work has been very interesting and the Public Speaking Contest, which was an event of Thursday, March 22, was the grand climax.

The reading was won by Helen De Verna with June Shepherd running as a close second. The winner of the oration was Howard Thaiss with Lucille Kazmaier and Dorothy Lindsay getting second place. These winners will participate in the District and County Contests.

Second Row—George Haas, Philip Sutter, Billy Hadnett, and Daniel Beck.

Third Row—Dayne Cummings, Howard Thaiss, Ben Kuhlman, Grace Spreng, and Blinn Harvey.

Fourth Row—Karl Williams, Martha Fahrer, Flossie Charles, June Shepherd, Charlotte Menke, Milly Smith, and Doris Burkhardt.

Football Personals

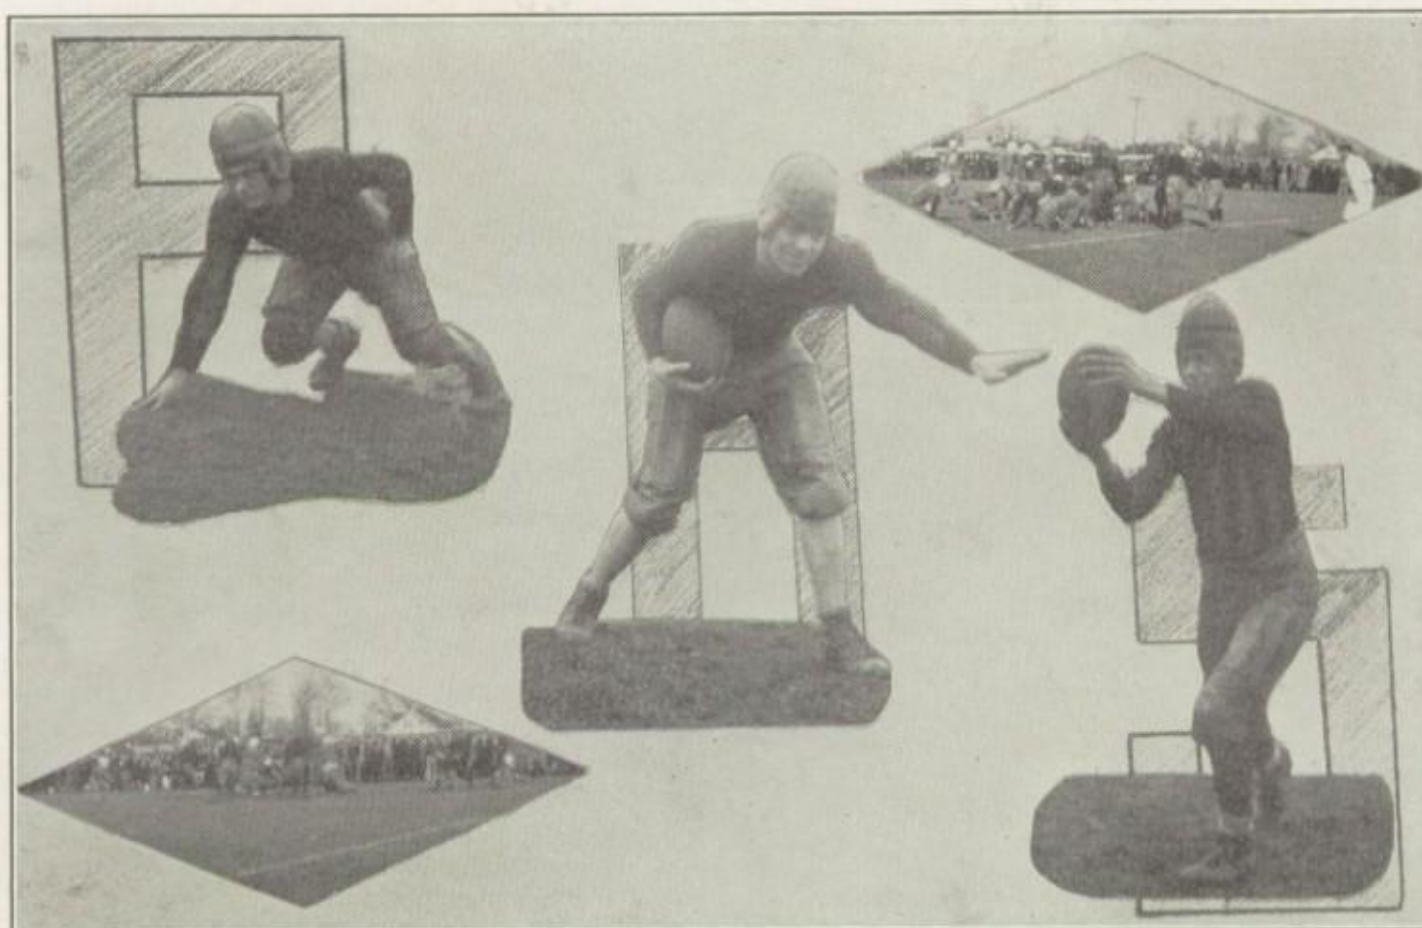

COACH WEINSTOCK—When Mr. Weinstock came to P. H. S. three years ago he certainly proved himself a fine coach by putting the basketball and football teams through a successful season. The next season he showed himself capable of making good teams out of green material. Last season, under his fine supervision and coaching the teams had a very successful season. He certainly is a coach that P. H. S. can be proud of and with him back next year our teams ought to do something.

ASSISTANT COACH TREECE—We certainly must not forget Assistant Coach Treece who gave his valuable time to be out every night at football practice. He showed an untiring effort in helping Coach Weinstock to develop a fine team.

CLARENCE BURKHART: Tackle—"Burkie's" first year at football was a great success. P. H. S. regrets that he could not have come out earlier in his High School career. His place in the line will be hard to fill next year. "Burkie" was in every quarter this season, which is a remarkable record.

MELVIN LYONS: Center—"Sam" was not a heavy center but he possessed the "pep and fight" that made up for his lack of weight. "Sam's" hobby was breaking through and spilling the "ball-carrier" before he got started. "Sam" also gets his "sheepskin" in May, but we are certainly glad that we have had such a valuable man on our squad. Let's have more like him!

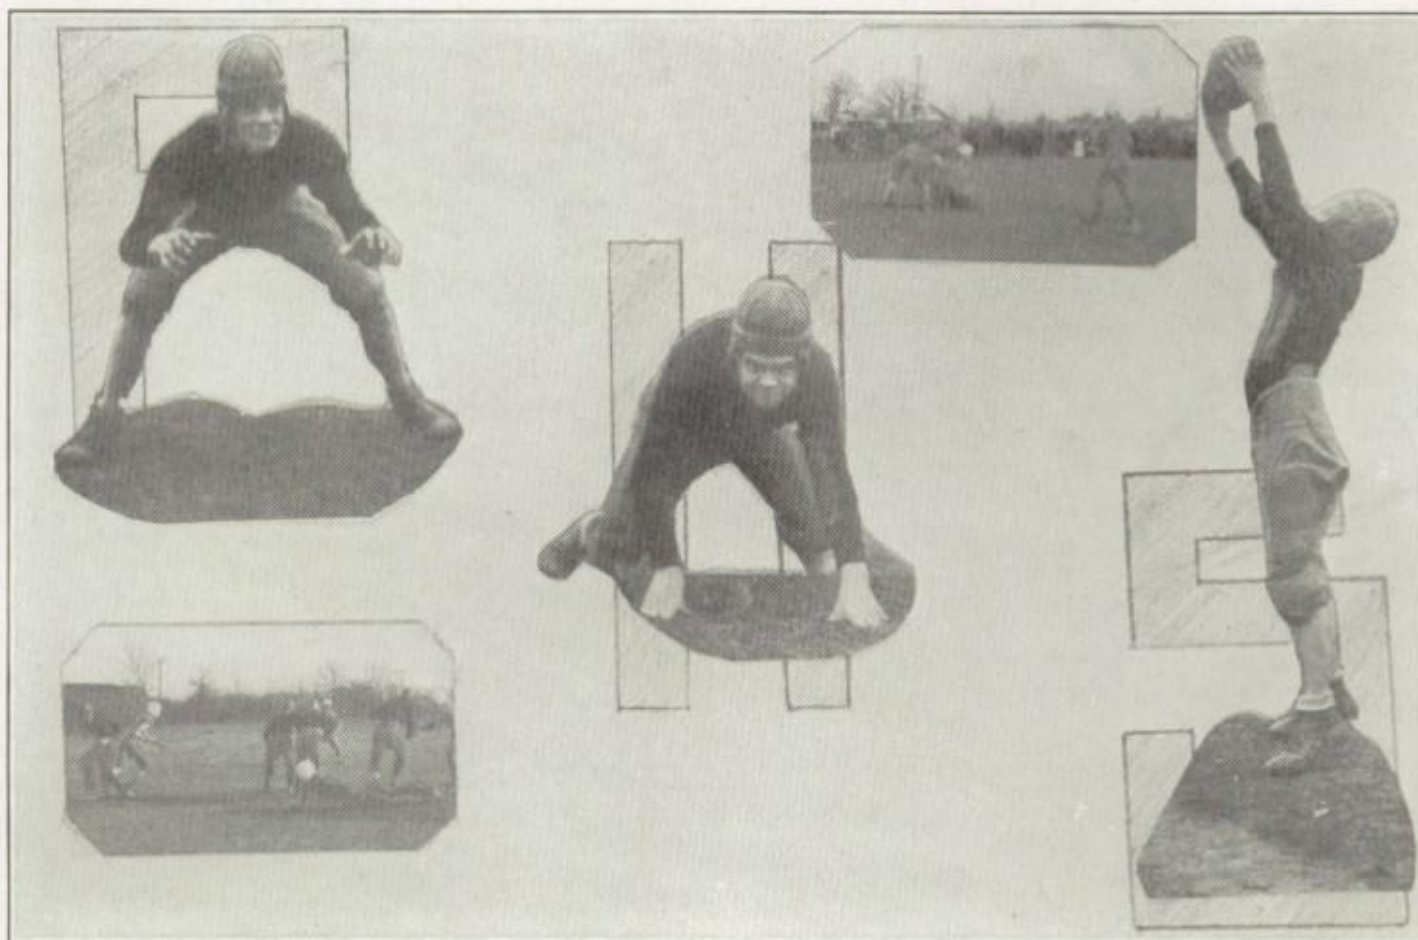

CLAYTON BOSTDORF: Quarter-back—"Dick's" first year on the grid-iron has been a very successful one. It is a remarkable feat to show such good judgment and ability in his first year in directing a team on the field as "Dick" showed this year. He was always cool and dependable and a wonderful defensive player. Keep an eye on him during his remaining two years.

DANIEL BECK: End—"Tony" could always be depended upon to fight to the last. Few men could circle his side of the line. He has been one of P. H. S.'s best ends on the gridiron. He certainly will be missed next year.

CAPTAIN GLENN CHARLES: Full-back—This was "Mutt's" big year at P. H. S. Starting at tackle, he was moved to the backfield to add some weight and punch to it, which he certainly did. It is doubtful if P. H. S. has ever had a full-back equal to "Mutt." Due to his weight and cleverness he just could not be stopped by a "half-dozen" tacklers.

BERTELLIS ANDERSON: Half-back—"Pert" was one of our most reliable men in the backfield. His added weight and football experience made him a dangerous man for all opponents. P. H. S. is sorry to lose "Pert" by the graduation route, but our best wishes go with him. "Pert" has played three years on the P. H. S. squad.

RICHARD KRUSE: Tackle—"Dick's" first year as a regular found him at right tackle where his ability to break through and "smear" the play was unusual. "Dick" fought to the finish in every game, and without a doubt he was one of the best tackles on the squad.

PATRICK DOWLING: Guard—"Pat" was one of the "big" boys on the line. He tips the scales at 180. "Pat" began to show some aggressiveness and fight during the last part of the season and he should be a "stone wall" next season. "Pat" is a Sophomore and very much is expected of him while he remains with us.

KARL WILLIAMS: End—Although "Bunny" was light, he was fast and aggressive and a good pass receiver. He was one of the two who played every quarter of this season. "Bunny" was a man who could be depended upon to give his best for the squad.

WILLIAM HADNETT: Half-back—"Billy" has possibilities in football if he would be more consistent. His lack of weight is made up in cleverness of foot. He has one more year to play and says that he is going to "strut his stuff" next fall.

WALTER KOLB: Guard—"Kolb" came to P. H. S. this year from Lambertville, Mich., where he had played two years of football. He was an aggressive and dependable man filled with "the spirit of football fight."

BERT ROBISON: Half-back—"Bert" was quite a versatile player this year. He began at tackle but was moved to the back-field at half-back and full-back where he showed ability at plunging the line. His open field work was not as good as it should have been, but without a doubt he will improve next year. "Bert" has the weight and football ability and much will be expected of him next year.

Joseph Protsik, Philip Sutter, Ray Grimes, Charles Kovach, John Bench, John Kruse, Charles Woodruff, William Wellstead, Harry Conner, Earl Hough, Henry Richards, Elmer Beck, Dean Reed, Ronald Luebben, and Gordon Garber are youngsters that show possibilities of being valuable men on the squad next year. It will be up to them to fill the many holes that will be left in the line-up due to graduation.

Football Review

On the day school started Coach Weinstock called for all boys to report for football practice that night. About thirty-five responded to his call. All were anxious to "boot the pigskin." All but two of the regular team were back and there was some fine material from which to pick men to fill these vacancies. A valuable guard was found in Clarence Burkhardt, and Dick Bostdorf was found to be a fine quarter-back.

Under the fine coaching of Coach Weinstock and Assistant-Coach Treece the team developed rapidly into a team which P. H. S. can be proud of.

Eight men from the team graduate this year, and we are certainly sorry to lose them, but there is some fine material for Mr. Winstock to pick a team from next year.

Our first game was scheduled for September 27 with Bowling Green. Our team had some mighty keen competition, but although B. G. made a touchdown in the second quarter, our team held them to the small score of 6 to 0 to the end of the game.

Our next game was played here on October 1 with Montpelier. Our boys showed fine spirit and team work but were defeated by the small score of 18 to 0, which made them all the more determined to win the next game.

On October 7 our team journeyed to Gibsonburg and played their strong team. The teams were rather equally matched but in the third quarter Mutt broke through their line and dashed down for a touchdown. After this it was easy to hold them and we won by a score of 6 to 0.

On October 17 Sylvania came here for a game and was completely out-classed by our team. We walloped them by a score of 47 to 6.

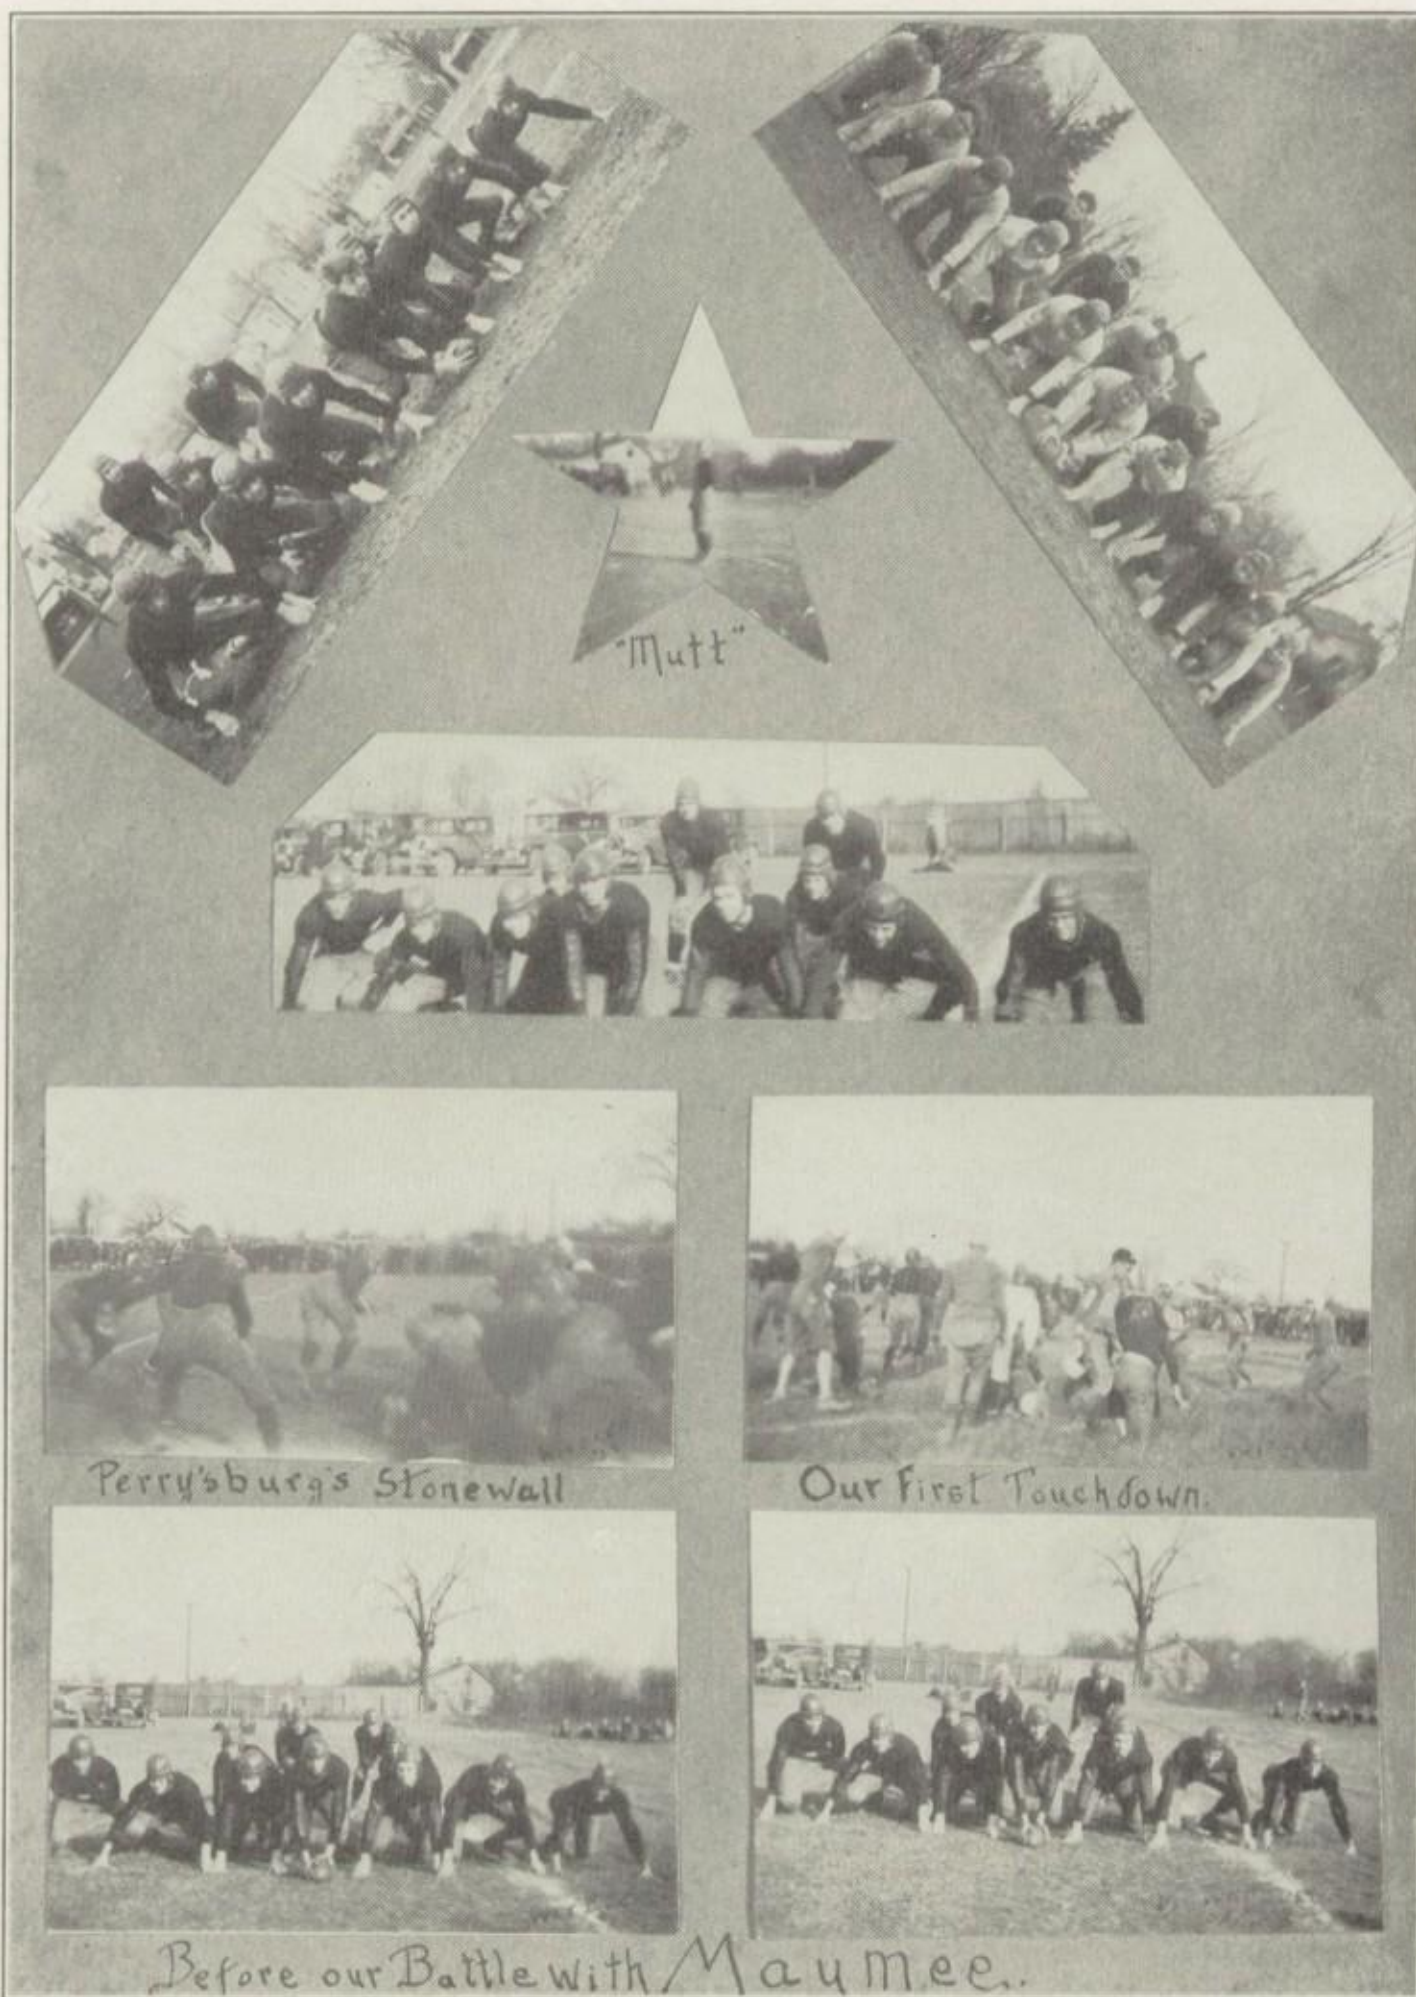

On October 21, our team went to North Baltimore and beat them by a score of 27 to 6. Who says our team is no good?

Our team went to Rossford on October 28 and although we were beaten by the small score of 13 to 0, we won a moral victory by showing fine spirit and clean team work.

Our next game, on November 4, was with a very strong team. The Waite Freshmen had boasted that no team had succeeded in making a first down on them. But a pretty pass thrown by Pert around right end and received by Burkie who carried it ten yards for the first down made on the strong Waite team. Owing to the superior weight and speediness of the Waite eleven, they succeeded in making four touchdowns which made the score 25 to 0. But this is the smallest score that Waite has had this season.

On November 11, the Scott lightweights came here for a game and although they were a strong team they were easily defeated by our team by a score of 18 to 2.

The last and most important game of the season took place on the local gridiron on Saturday, November 19. Maumee came over the river with her usual strong following and her usual confidence. The return trip, however, was burdened with a decisive defeat at the hands of Perrysburg High. Perrysburg entered into the fray with a determination to blot out defeats of former years and when the half ended the score favored the local team, 7 to 0. In the first quarter of the second half, Maumee scored her first and last touchdown. Perrysburg then began a grand march down the field which ended in a pass for a touchdown. The final score was 14 to 6 in Perrysburg's favor. It was a great game and Perrysburg deserved to win one of the most exciting games in P. H. S. football history.

Basket Ball Review

Coach Weinstock's call for basketball practice was answered by about forty men who were anxious to show their skill at putting "the ball through the hoop." All but one of the first team men were back from last year, ready to do their "stuff" for P. H. S. In a short time Mr. Weinstock found in Dick Bostdorf a valuable man to fill the vacancy at left guard.

Under the diligent coaching of Mr. Weinstock, the team progressed rapidly into one of the best teams P. H. S. has ever had.

All but two of the first team men graduate this year, but Mr. Weinstock has some fine material to pick a good team from next year. We certainly wish them good luck and hope they win many victories for old P. H. S.

The first five games were played with Tontogany, Alumni, North Baltimore, Webster and Holland and were all won by a large score.

Whitmer came here with a fine team. After a hard-fought game we won by one point. The score was 32 to 31.

Next came the game with Rossford which is always one of the big events of the season. The team went down there in fine spirits with many rooters for P. H. S. But due to one of our men being knocked out we lost by two points, the score being 23 to 25.

Following the game with Rossford we had a return game with North Baltimore and to show that our team was not downspirited over the defeat we walloped them 31 to 16.

The next two games were played away from home and were both victories for P. H. S. The first one with Holland turned out with a score of 23 to 17 and the other with Clay in which our team left them "in the dust" with a score 55 to 18.

Our game with Monclova was rather a hard-fought one due to the hard-luck in shooting of our fellows, but we won with a score of 26 to 21.

The team had some keen competition at Sylvania and the game was hard-fought up to the last whistle, but the score was in our favor, 23 to 24.

Our biggest game of the season with Maumee came next and was played there. This certainly was the fastest game our team had played during this season.

Although we lost by one point—20 to 19—our team won a moral victory by playing a clean game.

The last game was played with Walbridge whom we played there and beat them by a score of 30 to 11.

CLARENCE BURKHART

CAPTAIN—Center: "Burkie" was one of the big "cogs" in P. H. S.'s scoring machine this year. He actually got the tip-off and was a "dead" shot on "long" ones. It was due greatly to his fine work at center that P. H. S. made such a fine record on the court.

BERTELLIS ANDERSON

Forward: "Pert" suffered a "layoff" last year due to illness. He came back strong this year and "looped" them through with surprising regularity. He had fight and displayed fine floorwork in general. He will be missed.

MELVIN LYONS

Forward: "Sam" had some keen competition at his place, but his cleverness and accurate shooting when he was "going" won a regular berth. Sam has been a fine athlete during his high school days and we are sorry to lose him this year.

CLAYTON BOSTDORF

Guard: "Dick" won his berth as a regular guard when he was sent in as a substitute in P. H. S.'s first game. He showed remarkable skill as a defensive player and few got past him for "short" shots. We expect much of him in his two remaining years.

DONALD CRAINE

Guard: "Don" was a very fast floor man. He was especially clever in slipping away from his man and going down the side line for a "short" under the basket. It will be difficult to find a man to fill his position in 1928-1929.

BERT ROBISON

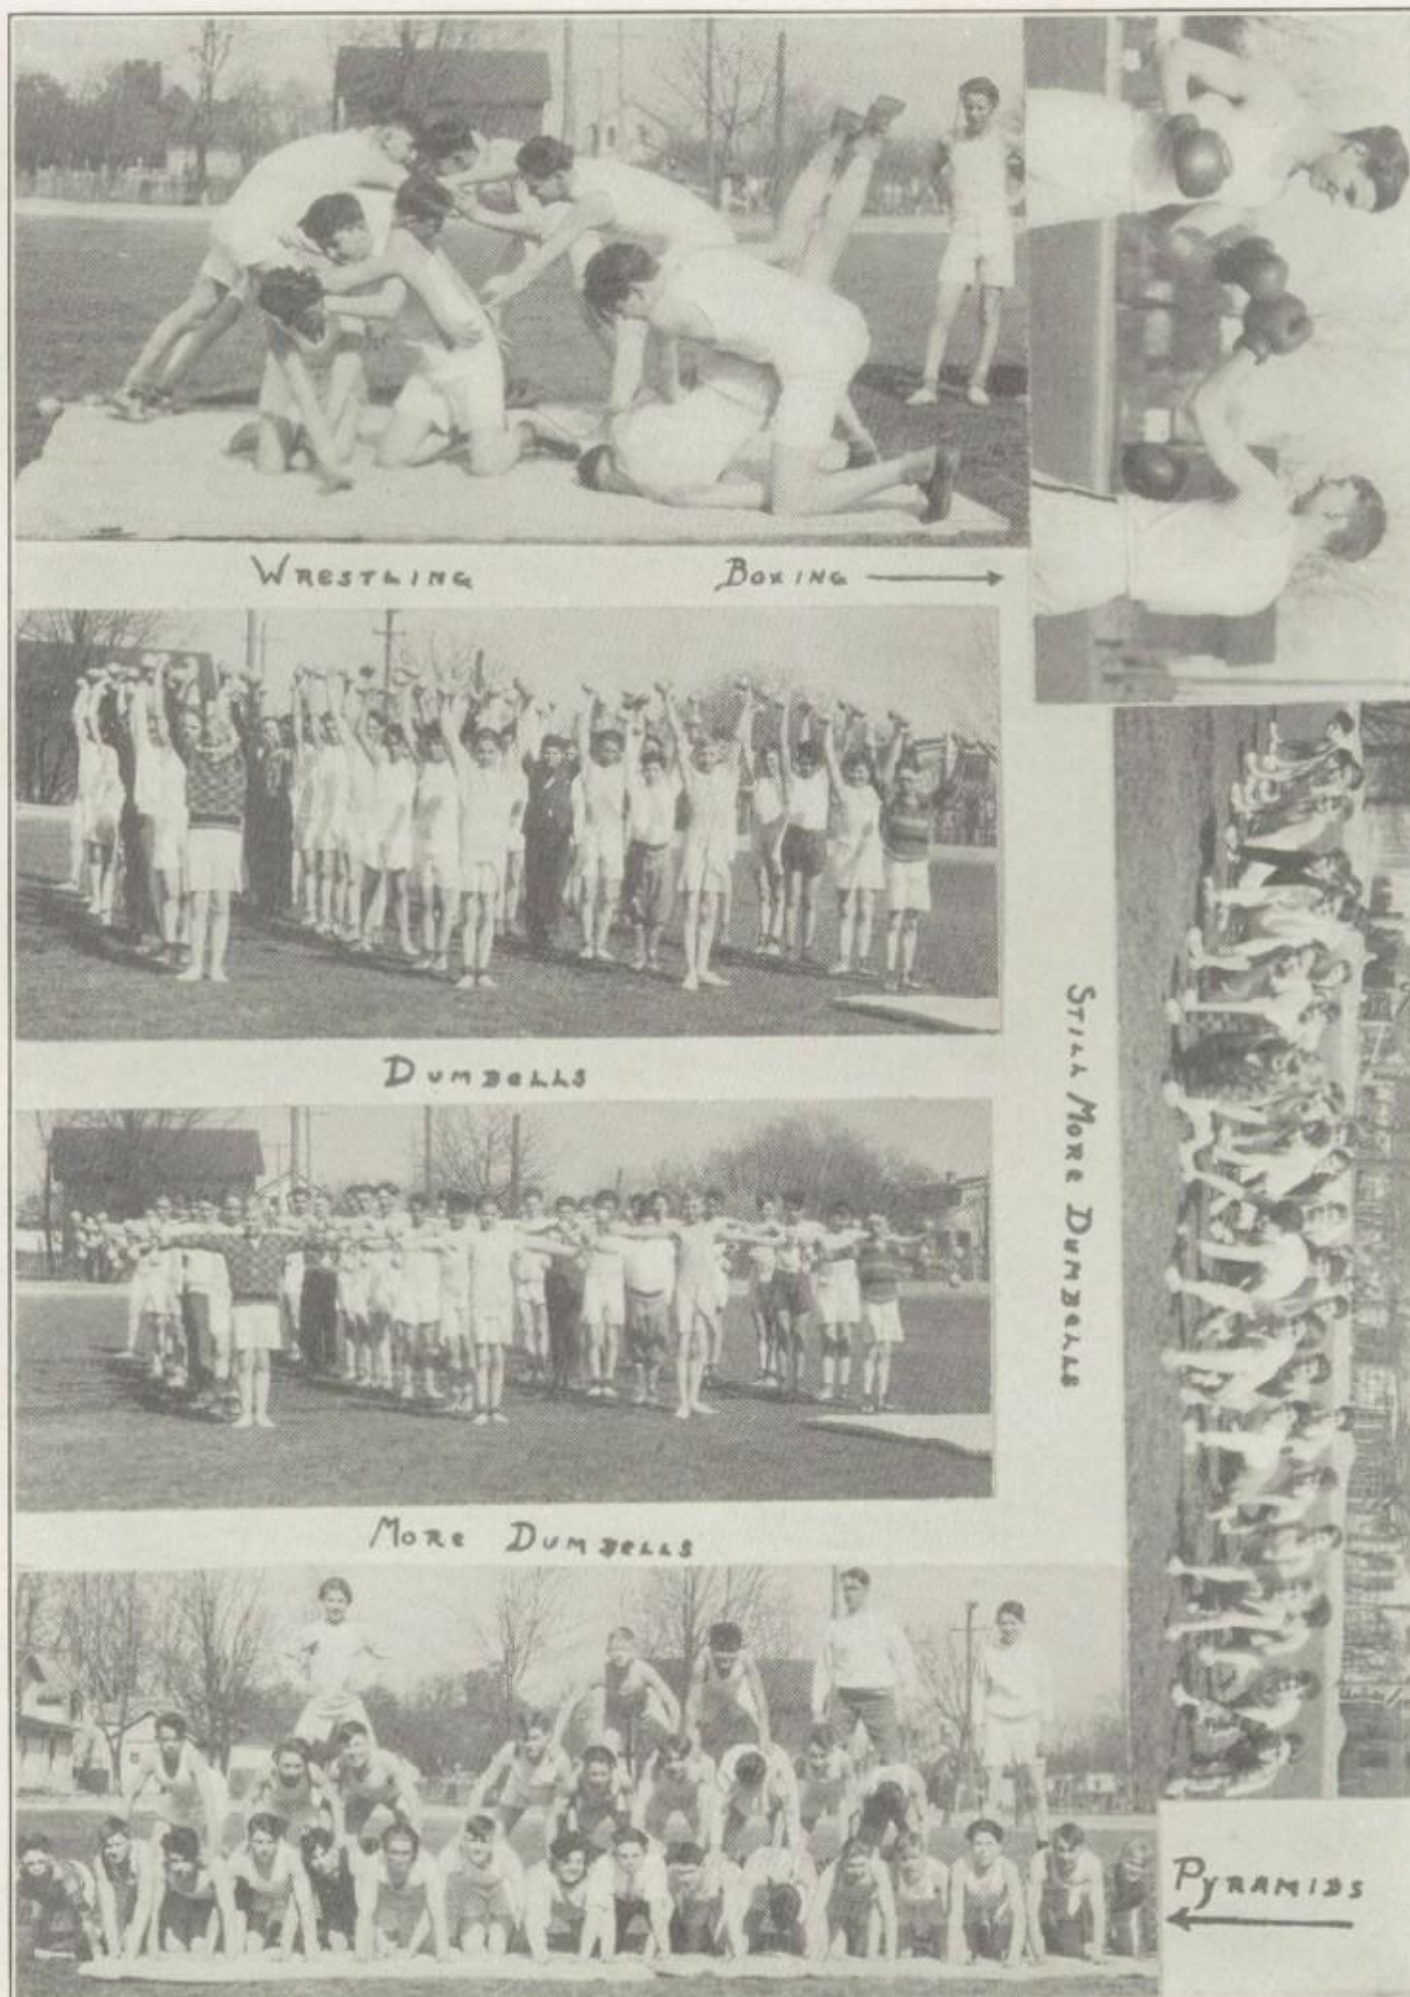

Forward: "Bert" was what you would call an "all around man." He could take almost any position in the court and play it well. He was just a little slow and inconsistent at forward, but we expect him to be a real forward next year.

WALTER KOLB

Guard: "Walt" was a good dependable substitute at guard. He always gave his best. "What more could we ask?"

RICHARD KRUSE

Center: "Dick" was another one of our reliable substitutes who saved many victories for P. H. S., when he was called upon to take the place of a regular who had been ejected from the game. He could play both center and guard well and he was a great fighter all the time regardless of the score.

G. A. A.

The girls of Perrysburg High School have organized their own athletic association which is known as the G. A. A. The aim of the association is "Good Health and True Sportsmanship." The girls chosen to lead the G. A. A. this year are:

President	Marjorie Milligan
Vice-President	Jane Williams
Secretary	Dorothy Shaw
Treasurer	Eloise Luebben

Under the present organization we are upholding athletics for all the girls based on intra-mural competition only. Our policies are: Sports for sport's sake, athletics for all girls and all girls in athletics. Athletic events in which class teams compete and above all, athletics chosen and practiced with regard to their suitability for girls; and not merely an imitation of boy's athletics. Games and sports adopted to her age, her capacities, her ability, and her physical condition.

Gretchen Hoffman is manager for the swimming, Mary Wiser for hockey, Marjorie Milligan for tennis, Grace Spreng for hiking, Gladys Halbert for volleyball, Jane Williams for Senior basketball, Gertrude Laubenthal for Junior basketball, June Shepherd for Sophomore and Frances Byrne for Freshman basketball and Gladys Perrin for baseball.

We still have basketball for girls but only within our own walls, so that we can modify the rules of the game to suit the physical needs of our girls.

In this way we can use twelve girls instead of just six. We play our games on our own floor, thus omitting those long trips at night under unfavorable conditions.

What have we substituted for the one former sport—Basketball? We have substituted seven different sports which include the one hundred and fifty girls, as well as regular formal gymnastics, which train every girl in every activity.

Twenty girls have been taking lessons in swimming at the Y. W. C. A. for the past school year, and all seem to have profited greatly by it.

Hockey is just getting its start in P. H. S. and it is new to nearly all of the girls. However, next year we hope to see several good teams performing.

This extensive athletic program for the girls is being carried forward under the direction of Mrs. Van Fleet, our very efficient Physical Education Director.

We owe a great many thanks to Superintendent Riggle and to the members of the School Board who have taken such an interest in the welfare of the girls and have responded so liberally with all possible equipment. This year alone they have purchased hockey clubs for use in the grandest of sports which includes 24 girls at one game. They have purchased a volley ball and net for use in an excellent pastoral sport which includes 24 girls in one game. Forty pairs of Indian Clubs, Dumbbells and 50 wands have been purchased.

The girls of the Perrysburg Athletic Association made application for membership in the Women's Division of the National Amateur Athletic Federation and on February 1, received notice that they had been received as active members.

The Women's Division of the National Amateur Athletic Federation was formed to further the adoption of such standards for women's athletics as are best adapted to their characteristic health needs as women.

The Women's Division is a national federation of several hundreds of individuals, organizations and institutions, which observed with disquiet the increasing tendency of women's sports to be a mere imitation of men's and determined to unite their efforts to amend existing conditions.

The Women's Division is primarily a standard-setting agency, with broadly educational programs. Through its federated organizations it works to help establish in practice the principles of conduct of girls' athletics which in the judgment of the best authorities on physical education for women are most appropriate to girls of different age groups and strength limitations.

The Women's Division of the N. A. A. F. believes in the spirit of play for its own sake, and works for the promotion of physical activity for the largest possible proportion of persons in any given group, in forms suitable to individual needs and capacities, under leadership and environmental conditions that foster health, physical efficiency, and the development of good citizenship.

The personnel of its members is made up of seventy women representing every part of the United States and all types of institutions and groups interested in girls' athletics.

OCTOBER 21—Magazine Contest Party

The school's usual routine was pleasantly disturbed by a magazine contest, and as a reward to Helen De Verna's winning team an informal party was given at the Town Hall on the eve of October 26. Several games and contests were played and enjoyed, especially the Scooter Contest in which Miss Sandles, Mr. Scheld, Mr. Treece and Mr. Riggle participated—and how! After a period of dancing, cider and doughnuts were served and every one went home tired but happy.

OCTOBER 27—Senior Prom

Black and gold, dim hall, music, and the dance is on! On October 27, the annual Senior Prom was given in the Masonic Hall. The hall was decorated in black and gold, with pumpkins and corn shocks placed in various corners and niches to give the Hallowe'en effects. The music was furnished by "Duke" Stalder and his Orchestra. During the evening those who were not dancing to the rhythmic beat of the drums and the wail of the saxophones were seen in the card room enjoying games of bridge. While other groups were seen standing around the refreshment booth. At the usual time the party broke up with gay chatter and farewells.

DECEMBER 22—Junior J-Hop

After having such a fine time at the Senior party, everyone waited anxiously for the Junior J-Hop which was an event of December 22 at the Town Hall. The hall was attractively decorated in white with large balloons on an ornamented tree placed in the center of the floor. The Midnight Revelers furnished the music until a late hour when everyone left, exchanging "Merry Christmas and Happy New Years."

FEBRUARY 21—Sophomore Party

Again, a party is anticipated and this time it is the Sophomore Party. On the evening of February 21, at the Odd Fellows Hall, the Sophomores contributed their bit to the festivities of P. H. S. The hall was decorated in gold and brown and the card-tables were placed conveniently for those who did not care to dance. Until the clock struck the mid-night hour, dancers swayed to the music of Hap's Happiness Boys.

Thoughts and energy are now centered upon Contests and graduating events, but included in those events is the Junior-Senior banquet—an affair that is already eagerly being anticipated. The date of the Banquet is set for May 10, 1928.

Alumni

In the year 1900 an Alumni Association was formed. It did not function, however, and for twenty-seven years Perrysburg was without such an organization. Came the spring of '27 an Alumni Association was again formed. Through this organization it is hoped that the school may be able to keep in closer touch with its former graduates. The officers of this association are:

George J. Munger (1900)	President
Edwin Burkhart (1924)	Secretary
Gertrude Braun (1925)	Treasurer

The Senior Class of 1928 dedicates the following pages to the classes which have previously graduated from Perrysburg High School and in so doing has endeavored to make the list as complete and accurate as possible. It is hoped that the difficulties of this task will be appreciated and any errors which may have been made will be overlooked.

THE SPEED OF SUCCESS

James J. Hill, the great railroad builder, defined the seed of success in the following manner:

"If you want to know whether you are destined to be a success or a failure in life, you can easily find out. The test is simple, and it is infallible. Are you able to save money? If not, drop out. You will lose. You may think not, but you will lose as sure as you live. The seed of success is not in you."

Early in life start a savings account with a strong bank.
